Company: Novant Health Radio :60

Script: "Many Women"
SFX: Computer Keys Typing

KATIE: Hey there, it's Katie White. And this is "A Healthy Point of View." It's my blog about connecting with healthcare. You know, when you think about it, every woman is more than just one woman. Take me, I'm a blogger, a professional mom, semi-pro yoga instructor and a full-time lover of trashy television.

SFX: Back Spacing on Keyboard

KATIE: Maybe we edit that last one off the ol' resume. Point being, this is why Novant Health ob-gyn provides care for a woman's total life journey. Because different life stages require different health issues. And no woman wants to be treated with a cookie-cutter approach to medicine. Not even Nancy from my book club. And believe me, she really, really likes cookies.

ANNCR: To learn more about mammograms with Novant Health, go to NovantHealth.org/mammogram. Novant Health women's health. Care for every amazing women you'll be.

Specs:
KATIE: 30-50 year old woman. Energetic. Fun. Friendly. Perky but not over the top. A unique character. Comedic. Can be more quirky. Let's audition actresses as well as radio people. She shouldn't sound anything like an announcer kind of voice.
